

Park Garden Trail 2019

Stallholder Application – small stands

Applications are invited from small (“market type”) food and garden-related concessions to provide their own stand at the Park Garden Trail (PGT), on Sunday 23rd June 2019, trading between 12pm and 6pm, at The Park Estate, Nottingham NG7.

To keep attention focused on the open gardens, only a limited number of concessions are available – those serving cold snack foods or cold non-alcoholic drinks, and for stalls that are complimentary to a gardening, conservation, or heritage theme. Please note, PGT reserves the sole right to sell cakes and scones; these are homemade by many Park residents, with all proceeds going to charity, and we therefore do not compete with commercial stalls in this regard.

Prices are: £65 for stands selling cold snack foods and/or cold non-alcoholic drinks, or £40 for other stands (see description above). Stands must be a maximum 3m x 3m – please note we are not able to lend tables or gazebos for stallholders. If you are interested in providing hot drinks, hot foods or alcoholic beverages, please contact us for further information

Overview

The Park Estate was built mainly throughout the Victorian era and is a unique location - close to Nottingham City Centre but completely separated by its landscape and architecture.

The Park Garden Trail (PGT) is held every two years and is a well-established event in the heart of the city that embraces a wide variety of open gardens and related activities. We attract thousands of visitors, including residents from The Park, and those from further afield who are interested in gardens, architecture, conservation and heritage. Visitors are keen to experience, for just one day every two years, the unique quality of The Park’s private gardens and hidden places. As well as the gardens, there is much to see and do – walking the wide leafy pavements (still lined with the original gas streetlamps), visiting the immense tunnel or catching glimpses of caves set into the sandstone cliffs.

The centrally-located Newcastle Circus is the hub for social and family activities, music and entertainment.
